

Erwin Cain

Biography

State Representative Erwin Cain represents House District 3 in northeast Texas. He is a small businessman, owning a real estate investment company and a law firm. Erwin has built a law practice that now extends throughout East and Northeast Texas defending those who have been sued against frivolous lawsuits. He previously served as Chairman of the Hopkins County Republican Party, which has experienced strong growth in the past several years. He has worked to promote conservative principles across East Texas by launching and chairing the Northeast Texas GOP Chairmens Coalition. The group is comprised of Republican leaders in eight counties across the region, including five of the six counties in House District 3.

After graduating from Longview High School, Erwin attended Kilgore College, earning an Associate degree in Management and Marketing in 1982. He graduated from East Texas State University at Texarkana (now Texas A&M University Texarkana) in 1985 with a Bachelors Degree in Management and Marketing. In 1988, Erwin earned his law degree from the University of Arkansas, where he graduated in the top quarter of his class.

Erwin and Hope have been married for 21 years and reside in the rural community of Como, located just outside of Sulphur Springs. The couple has three children: Hunter (18), Averi (15), and Honour (12), all of whom attend public schools in the Como-Pickton CISD.

The Cains are members of First Baptist Church of Sulphur Springs, where Erwin is an adult Sunday School teacher. Erwin coaches his younger daughters soccer team.

last updated on 02/22/2011